

Japan Client Services (JCS)

Japan Client Services (JCS) was established in New York in 1985 as a specialty practice focused on customised risk and insurance services for Japanese multinational corporations. JCS is now a global operation that co-operates with other local Marsh offices, especially the Japan office. JCS worldwide employs more than 280 brokerage, risk management, and employee benefits professionals, most with bilingual capabilities.

JCS now serves the vast majority of the world's leading Japanese multinationals worldwide and facilitates the continuing globalisation of their risk management and programs. As a result, JCS is recognised as the industry leader in delivering brokerage services and risk solutions to Japanese multinationals.

In Asia, JCS has its regional headquarters in Tokyo. In February 2002, JCS in Asia established its office in Singapore to coordinate the delivery of services from local Marsh offices to Japanese multinationals operating in the ASEAN countries. In June 2004, JCS Asia established an office in Shanghai to serve the insurance and risk management needs of Japanese multinationals in the People's Republic of China.
